

Scott Baxter
Vice President, VF Corporation and Group President,
Jeanswear Americas & Imagewear

Scott Baxter is Vice President, VF Corporation and Group President, Jeanswear Americas & Imagewear, a position he was named to in January 2011. He is responsible for leading VF's Jeanswear business in North and South America, as well as the Company's Imagewear business.

Baxter joined VF Corporation in 2007 as the President of the Licensed Sports Group. In 2008, he was named Coalition President for the Imagewear Coalition, comprised of both the Image division and the licensed sports apparel business. He came to VF with more than 20 years of global experience in operations, marketing, merchandising, sales and manufacturing. Prior to joining VF, Baxter served as Senior Vice President of The Home Depot Company, leading the Services Division. He also previously served as Executive Vice President of Edward Don & Company and held a series of leadership roles with Nestle and PepsiCo.

Baxter holds a B.A. degree from the University of Toledo and an M.B.A. from Northwestern University's Kellogg Graduate School of Management.